Crisp and Timely Comment on Current Topics of Local Interest.

BY FULLER BULL, of Bay St. Louis.

The most important event of the week was the giving of reports. The dengue is responsible for most of the low marks, and we sincerely hope that this month we may not be interrupted in our studies by this unwelcome visitor.

We note with great pleasure the return to school of our dear friend and classmate, Cleo Touline, who has been ill for quite a while. We are happy to have her once more in our midst and hope that her health will continue to improve.

The matinee at the A & G Theatre Tuesday evening was quite a treat to the inmates of S. J. A., who are not permitted to go out at night. We hope for their sakes that such meetings will be a frequent occurrence.

We wonder Why
B. couldn't relate much of the picture she saw at the matinee the other evening.
C. B. is so happy lately?
C. T. who has such a love for flowers, should prefer/reeds?

There is no excuse these days for the daughter of a coal mine owner remaining single.

It would be a good idea for the young men to keep in mind the fact that all good lookers are not good cooks.

We see in a New York paper where a detective of that city is bragging about the crooks he has caught. But look at the crowd he has to pick from.

Many an auto owner has discovered that painting a car never takes the knock out of the engine.

Nothing tickles a man half as much as to run into a cold snap right after he gets a new overcoat.

It now appears that family skeletons are kept on the front page of the daily papers instead of in closets.

Some people contend that the worm is sure to turn. What if it does—it's just the same on both sides.

It isn't kinship that takes a good many men out into the country. Sometimes its cider.

It has also been our observation that a little loving now and then, is relished by the best of men.

Here down South in the land of cotton the crop is fine but the price is rotten.

The man who says he doesn't play second fiddle at his house is possibly a better liar than he is a musician.

You often see two men calling each other liars and both of them may be telling the truth.

Our advice to the Thanksgiving turkeys of this country is to call a "hunger strike."

One of the hardest things in the world to do is make a boy understand that somebody has to get the neck and the gizzard.

By the time a man has saved enough money to afford a wife, these days, he's so old that nobody will have him.

A REAL BENEFACTOR.

James Lewis Cowles died recently at his home in Richmond, Va. To residents of Bay St. Louis and vicinity this announcement means little, until it is explained that Cowles was the man who first conceived the idea of a parcels post system. Then everyone will know him as a great public benefactor. He met with opposition, but finally Uncle Sam decided to try out the scheme. And now when we reflect upon the many advantages that have grown out of its introduction and development we are immediately impressed with the fact that not since the postoffice department was first established has any man added to it a single development as important or as popular as the parcels post. In fact, it has about reached a state where we doubt if the country could get along without it. We build monuments to and celebrate the birthdays of men who haven't done one-half as much for humanity as James Cowles did when he thought out our parcels post system.

Two million dollars for an auditorium was too costly, and New Orleans' property owners voted the proposition down. Too many unpaved streets and dirty gutters, crying to high heaven.

The Solid South is more solidified. Virginia is added to the Solid Democratic States.

Tuesday's election repudiated the Republican party—incidentally a few Republicans and some would-be.

The country has told Volstead to go way back and sit down!

How does it come that the things the citizens here like to do in Hancock County are not the same things in Mississippi? Well, there are differences in climate, I suppose.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

Isn't it strange what great changes can come within a little space of time. We were talking with a Bay St. Louis man a few days ago and something was said about the many changes that have taken place since 1909—just 22 years ago. That isn't a very long time, yet he was about to point out many things of interest that have come up in those 22 years things we knew nothing about before.

For instance, he pointed out that 22 years ago we didn't know a thing about parcels post or radio, and the air was not filled with flying machines. Nobody wore a wrist watch, or swatted the fly, or had appendicitis, and farmers had to come to town for their mail. Twenty-two years ago there was no such thing as a submarine boat, a hired girl was perfectly satisfied to work for $1.50 a week; the butcher threw in a chunk of liver with the meat order, and a merchant made us a present of a pair of suspenders when we bought a suit of clothes. There wasn't any "listening in" on party-line telephones; straw stacks were generally burned instead of boiled; nobody ever heard of Bolshevism, and we were still slashing our face with an old-fashioned straight-back razor.

Yes, sir, twenty-two years brings wonderful changes, and we could go on and enumerate them by the column. We marvel at the wonders of time. And we can only register amazement and agree that if we move as fast in the next 22 years as we have in the last 22, then we will, as the small boy says, certainly be "going some."

THE AMERICAN APPLE.

This has been a wonderful year for the apple. In all parts of the country the crop is abundant and if the fruit had been gathered and distributed in scientific ways the American people would have had cheap apples for months to come.

Under present conditions a big per cent of the crop is going to be wasted. High freight rates and low prices offered producers will have a good deal to do with it.

According to the United States census, 136,580,000 bushels of apples were produced, and 98,582,000 bushels sold in 1919. This year the crop is larger. The State of Washington leads all others in production, her crop being one-sixth of the crop harvested in the entire country. New York ranks second, with over 14,000,000 bushels; California is third, Oregon is fourth and Idaho in fifth place.

In Ohio the vote of light wines and beer indicated the wets were leading.

In the second Minnesota congressional district Representative Andrew J. Volstead, father of the prohibition act, was in a losing race with Rev. O. J. Kvale.

ORLEANS RATIFIES BELT LINE PROPOSAL.

A proposal authorizing the city of New Orleans to issue $5,000,000 bonds for the improvement of the public belt railway system was favorably voted on in Tuesday's election. Another bond issue provided for the construction of a municipal auditorium at a cost of $2,000,000 was defeated.

Three constitutional amendments, one giving the legislature the right to postpone payment of taxes in event of floods or other catastrophes, another authorizing the dock board to lease lands along the Industrial canal for commercial purposes, and a third giving the New Orleans levee board the right to construct a sea wall along Lake Pontchartrain were carried by a 2 to 1 vote.

An amendment of statewide interest which would make the State superintendent of election elective instead of appointive was defeated in New Orleans by a slight margin, but returns from the country districts indicated that it had received a majority.

There's advice to remember when you want to sell something—offer it to those who read the home-town paper, because they have long ago learned that they can believe what they see in its columns. It isn't so full of advertising, either, that your message will be buried, as often happens to advertisers in big dailies. If you haven't learned the truth about advertising in your home-town paper then you haven't learned all you ought to know about successful merchandising.

A TWISTED WORLD.

A few months ago one of the famous old bad men of the one-time woolly West dropped dead while drinking at a soda water fountain. Now four young men charge that the cashier of a New York candy store held them up with an automatic pistol and compelled them to pay for soda waters they never drank. Where are we drifting? Can it be that since red liquor went out of style death and banditry are going to continue with the innocent-looking soda water as a companion? We have many good citizens here in Bay St. Louis who enjoy a glass of soda water, and some, I think it when they drink, are drinking else. Are we to understand that they are robbing alms with violence or committing a case of black魔法 every time they for something that has been voted out of style? It's certainly getting to be a twisted world we are living in, any way you look at it.

HOW DO YOU FIGURE IT?

The Hinds County Gazette, edited by Edgar S. Wilson, says:

"Newspapers and lawyers generally say that Stokes V. Robertson in successfully questioning the constitutionality of the initiative and referendum amendment has done Mississippi not only a distinct but signal service."

We do not know about lawyers, but our observation leads us to the contrary opinion, so far as the newspapers are concerned. An overwhelming majority of the editors of Mississippi have expressed regret that the State Supreme Court saw fit to reverse itself, and incidentally to put the free schools of the State in jeopardy.

Just why the annulment of the initiative and referendum should be regarded as a "distinct and signal service," needs further elucidation. In a purely democratic government the people are supposed to be the source of all power, and the initiative and referendum permit the voters to do things for themselves which legislative bodies refuse or fail to do. This is true of the free school "revolving fund," which the decision of the Supreme Court has set aside. The voters of the State undertook to do what the framers of the constitution failed to accomplish, and the wisdom of their judgment has already been demonstrated in actual practice.

Laurel Leader.

FOUR STATES FAVOR LIQUOR MODIFICATION.

Proponents of repealing the prohibition laws scored heavily in at least four States, according to reports.

Illinois an expression of sentiment on the Volstead act favored modification by approximately 600,000 votes to a negative 200,000, with half of the State unreported.

California defeated the State's enforcement act by an indicated 2 to 1 vote. Missouri re-elected United States Senator James A. Reed, an ardent opponent of prohibition, and New Jersey sent Gov. Edward I. Edwards, an ardent opponent of prohibition, to the Senate over Senator Frerichs.

The Illinois congressional delegation will take in three wets, present reports indicate. The Wisconsin delegation will be wet 7 to 4, the majority from the State including Senator Berger, Socialist elected for the third time. Wisconsin's re-elected Senator Robert M. La Follette, who is said by the drys to be against prohibition.

In Ohio the vote of light wines and beer indicated the wets were leading.

In the second Minnesota congressional district Representative Andrew J. Volstead, father of the prohibition act, was in a losing race with Rev. O. J. Kvale.

Now when it comes to the market system which will make it profitable to gather the fruit available for everybody at a reasonable price. Waste deprives the nation of wealth which should be enjoyed and if there is any truth in the slogan that "an apple a day keeps the doctor away," then we would be a healthier as well as a wealthier people.

IT'S YOUR CHUM.

Writing in an Eastern paper, C. N. Greig, well known journalist, says:

"The home paper is your chum, your pal and your intimate friend the big city daily is your casual acquaintance; the magazine is your occasional visitor. And when it comes to advice, we trust a chum and an intimate friend first, don't we?" You may not know it, but the small-town paper not only delivers more friendly and intimate home influence circulation, but it is trusted far more widely than the big city dailies produced by men so far away that they can't possibly be in touch with your community."

There's advice to remember when you want to sell something—offer it to those who read the home-town paper, because they have long ago learned that they can believe what they see in its columns. It isn't so full of advertising, either, that your message will be buried, as often happens to advertisers in big dailies. If you haven't learned the truth about advertising in your home-town paper then you haven't learned all you ought to know about successful merchandising.

GAS TRAIL.

Pungent Paragraph Picked From the Automotive Field.

Keep springs tight at the axles; looseness here causes most spring breaks.

The total cost of the New York-New Jersey vehicular tunnel will exceed $28,000,000.

Farmers lead in the purchase of a certain popular make of small car in the past months.

Motor theft losses in the United States are placed by an authority at $300,000 every 24 hours.

The total number of cars reported stolen in 1921 was 37,554, about 500 more than in 1920.

Cities reporting a decrease in stolen cars during 1921 number but 7. Cleveland heads the list.

The average individual motor vehicle annual gasoline consumption is estimated at from 350 to 450 gallons.

Never leave your car with the shirt layer in gear, and always look at this layer before starting the engine.

In 1921 farms of the United States are estimated to have consumed 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline for stationary engines alone.

Don't use the same can or bucket for water and gas. A particle of water or dirt in the gasoline may cause a lot of trouble.

If the carburetor is doing its duty the exhaust gas forced out of the muffler should be quite colorless and almost entirely odorless.

The drip pan of a car may not seem very important, but it had better be kept clean. Gasoline upon its surface is the producing cause of many fires.

Never use gasoline to clean the car's upholstery. It cracks the leather and unless the gas or the dye is of very high grade may take out the color.

The United States senate committee on reconstruction and production has estimated that the track mileage of the United States is 7,150,000,000.

A large motor passenger transport company in California is equipping its buses with radio. Tests have proved this source of entertainment quite practicable.

Overspeeding, according to a Firestone service man, not only is bad on your pocketbook or upon the car's mechanics, but has as serious effect on tires as has overloading.

Don't turf the hose on your car in order to wash it. Water, forced out in this way, gets into impossible-to-reach places and doesn't improve the car. Use a sponge and bucket.

Motor vehicle production during 1922 may reach 2,000,000, according to a Firestone expert who also figures that the 1922 tire output will break all previous records.

In Estonia, one of the Baltic provinces, there are approximately 166 automobiles, of which 135 are in rural areas. Most of these are of German make.

Wind shield wipers may have their place, but experienced motorists know that a little glycerine rubbed over the glass will keep rain, or even snow and sleet, and not to heavy, from obscuring the vision.

Numerous rumors emanating from Germany to the effect that that country is about to produce an automobile that will revolutionize the industry have been discredited and little credit is given the story by the big tire manufacturers.

The crop of hogs is a good one and great quantities of meat will be slaughtered this winter.

DAD'S DAY PLANNED AT A. & M. COLLEGE.

Fathers Will Visit Their Sons at State School and See Work.

By G. H. Williams, One of the A. & M. Dads.

A. and M. College, Miss. Oc. 30.

There is going to be a big affair at A. & M. College this fall, in fact two days, November 24-25, 1922, when A. & M. boys will be in their glory. These dates cover "Dad's Day," something new in A. & M. activities, an event that has been held once before, but which promises to become the most important day in Dad's life at said college, except perhaps commencement.

Last year, early in November, a group of students conceived the idea of inviting their fathers to visit the big Mississippi institution in a body in order that each dad might see for himself exactly how his boy lived, worked, studied, played, what he fed upon, and who his pals were. They asked the college authorities for permission to issue the invitations and for time in which to entertain them.

Upon motion duly seconded and unanimously carried (save that Supervisor H. S. Weston did not vote) the resolution, as otherwise participated in, was adopted prescribing the form of bonds to be issued by the Sellers Consolidated School District, and ordering the sale thereof through said bids, on the first Monday of October, 1922, and.

Whereas, at the October, 1922, meeting of this Board, the order of sale of said bonds on the first Monday of October, 1922, to wit:

Lucien Bourgeois, I. T. W. Mitchell, Jos. Nicaise, R. C. Smith, Victoria Holden, Doss Martin, Randolph Caudron, W. J. Mitchell, Felton Whitfield, John McQueen.

It is ordered that John Holden be allowed $10.00 for cow
